BRIDE-ELECT GUEST AT SHOWER

Honoring Miss Ivy Hill, whose marriage to Mr. Henry Rankin of Courtenay will take place shortly, the Misses Agnes Craig and Winnie Thornley entertained on Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Craig, Second Street.

A large number of friends gathered prior to the arrival of the guest of honor, who was greeted with the "surprise" on her entrance. There followed a happy evening of music, games and contests, while the chief event of interest took place when little Shirley Bowcott, niece of the bride-to-be, entered the room drawing a wagon decorated to represent a baker's delivery truck and with the name "The Master Bakery" printed on either side.

The shower gifts contained in the truck were given jointly by the guests and included a beautiful old rose satin bedspread and a boudoir lamp in shades of gold.

Dainty refreshments were served from the supper table decorated with sweet peas and baby's breath arranged in silver vases.

The invited guests were Mrs. R. G. Hill, Mrs. D. Craig, Mrs. A. Thomson, Mrs. C. D. Taylor, Mrs. G. Morrey, Mrs. J. Peters, Mrs. F. F. King, Mrs. F. W. Bowcott, Mrs. W. Baillie, Mrs. H. Lind, Mrs. F. G. Bowcott, Mrs. B. Bowcott, Mrs. J. McNeil, Mrs. J. Ramsay, Mrs. H. J. McIntyre, Mrs. L. McKenzie, Mrs. George Stewart (Victoria), Mrs. J. Wood, Mrs. McDonald (Vancouver), Mrs. H. Steinberg, Mrs. W. J. Coward, Mrs. E. W. Cowell, Mrs. Ingamells, Mrs. J. Matthews, Mrs. E. L. SCOUT EVENT ATTRACTED FINE CROWD

Through the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Simister their gardens at Roberts' Bay Inn were thrown open on Monday for the annual garden party put on by the local Scout Council. Lovely weather prevailed and large numbers were attracted to the fete. Artistically decorated stalls and the tables where afternoon tea was served were arranged on the lawn, also the games of chance and skill which were looked after by the various committees.

The program featured a number of very pleasing English folk dances and a dutch dance put on by the Victoria Rangers, while the Wolf Cubs, in charge of Miss Grace King, put on "Jungle Dance of Kaa."

Miss Victoria Munt was the lucky winner of the cake for which tickets were sold during the afternoon.

The attractions of the afternoon with those in charge were:

Home cooking: Mrs. W. Newton and Mrs. Gorton.

Ice cream and lemonade: Mrs. Warrender and Mrs. Peck.

Candy: Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Hammond.

Afternoon tea: Mrs. King and Mrs. Carter.

Bran pie: Mrs. Baal.

Games: S. Roberts, F. J. Baker and F. F. King.

Fortune telling: Mrs. Livesey and Mrs. McIntyre.

Vegetables: Dr. Newton and W. C. Clarke.

At "the receipt of custom" Mr. Carter.

The committee reports a very successful day and would like to express appreciation to all who helped make it so.

"BOAT DAY" DRAWING NEARER

What promises to be one of the biggest events held here for many moons, judging from the interest already shown, is the forthcoming "Boat Day" set for Monday, Aug. 10th, and which will take place at Roberts' Bay, Sidney. The tide will be right and spectators will have vantage points the whole length of the wharf while there will be room for plenty more in boats at a distance from the course of action.

Entrants are now busy "making ready" for the classes in which they are particularly interested and with a good day some real sport is anticipated.

You are asked to boost this undertaking in every way possible—talk about, write about, and be sure to be there yourself and bring along your friends. Take part in the events, if possible, but be in attendance anyway and help make this the very biggest and most successful event ever undertaken.

MANY ATTEND DANCE AT SAANICHTON
Amid a summer setting of rambling roses and trailing clematis, which made the Agricultural Hall at Saanichton a very bright scene, over 200 guests took part in the flannel dance staged by the Saanich Junior Pioneers on Friday evening.

Len Acres and his ever popular troupe as usual provided the best of dance music and the event proved so enjoyable that dancing was continued till 2 o'clock.

Dainty refreshments were served in the dining room at the supper hour.

IMPORTANCE OF BRITISH RULE IN INDIA

Dr. D. J. E. Behram of Bombay, before sailing from Vancouver on the "Empress of Japan" on his return to India, flew from the mainland city to Victoria from where he motored to Sidney to make an inspection of the Rest Haven Sanatorium and Hospital. Dr. Behram, a prominent medical man in India, operates a hospital of 100 beds in Bombay and also a 200-bed hospital for lepers. In 1930 he was decorated by the Viceroy of India with the rank of Khan Bahadur in recognition of his services to the British Government.

During his visit the doctor stressed the importance of India remaining under the protective rule of Great Britain for the preservation of order between the Mohammedan and Hindu peoples.

Arriving in San Francisco from England in May Dr. Behram attended the general conference of Seventh-day Adventists where he was seated as a delegate. He expressed himself as pleased with the medical equipment and service maintained at Rest Haven.

The event you are asked to assist by having yours in as soon as possible.

The full program appears in this issue on page three.

Saturna Residents Enjoyed Dance

By Review Representative
SATURNA ISLAND, July 29. — A dance took place at the Community Hall on Friday, July 24th, a large crowd attending. Everybody had such a good time that when the floor manager, A. Ralph, announced the "Home, Sweet Home Waltz," there were cries of "just a half hour more" and the orchestra very considerably prolonged the program. At the close everybody gave three cheers for the orchestra.

GUIDES NOW IN CAMP

The Girl Guides in camp at Deep Cove are in the midst of a happy week of guiding activities and visitors to the camp are quite envious of the healthy outdoor life that the girls are leading—but summer is the time for camping and from all reports the days being spent there now will be long remembered.

On Saturday the divisional camp adviser, Lady Colville, accompanied by Mrs. Gale, the divisional commissioner, and Mrs. Layard, the district commissioner, paid the camp an official visit and after inspecting the quartermaster's stores, tents, etc., they attended the flag-down and prayers under the supervision of Lieut. Grace King. This happy visit was closed with a camp-fire.

On Sunday morning a short service was conducted by Rev. Lancaster and during the afternoon visitors swarmed the camp, the girls having a busy time showing their friends around. Swimming was enjoyed and later tea was served to all the guests.

Monday the group was entertained to supper by the district commissioner, Mrs. Layard, following a treasure hunt.

Each day is filled with regular duties and the girls are receiving worthwhile training during their week in camp.

Latest Crop Report

The following is the latest crop report issued by the Bank of Montreal and covers conditions in our province:

Grain is heading and indications are for a good average crop, although coarse grains are lodging badly in some districts. Good yields of timothy and alfalfa are being harvested, but some damage has resulted from rain. The clover crop is light. Roots and vegetables are doing well. Berry crops are of poor quality and yields are nearly past. Tree fruits are sizing well; the following yields are now indicated: Apples 80 percent of average, pears 85 percent, peaches 50 percent, apricots are a failure. Pastureage, fair to good, and water for irrigation is plentiful.

First American Style Tennis Tournament At Port Washington

By Review Representative
PORT WASHINGTON, July 29. — The Port Washington Tennis Club held its first American style tournament on Wednesday last, the winners being Mrs. Olive Clague, Miss Ivy Logan, Mark Richardson and George Logan. A large number attended the match and enjoyed the tea served by the ladies in the afternoon. On Friday evening the Tennis Club held a dance in Port Washington Hall which was also well attended.

DR. ROBERTS WINS KEEN COMPETITION

MAYNE ISLAND, July 29. — Under glorious weather conditions, and with the golf course perfectly groomed and manicured, by Greenkeeper Jimmy Drysdale, the competition for the Hardscrabble Spoon (a handsome thunderbird totem pole spoon presented by Mr. C. Elverson, Galiano Island,) was played off on Wednesday, the 22nd.

Keen interest was displayed in this event, and not until the very last couple had handed in their score cards was the custody of the spoon for the ensuing year decided.

Playing from scratch Dr. Thos. E. Roberts was the winner, closely followed by K. Nagata, who in turn had Fred Heck treading on his heels to take third place.

Members and guests were entertained by the club to a sumptuous tea purveyed by Mrs. Wm. Deacon.

At the conclusion of play Col. Flick, C.M.G., president of the club, called on Mrs. Elverson to present the prizes. Mrs. Elverson graciously complied, congratulating each of the winners. A miniature of the spoon was presented to the winner for permanent custody.

NOTES ON THE GAME
At the half way mark Fred Heck looked to be the winner, but got the "jitters" and fell down badly on the home stretch.

Ronald Elverson, also a likely contestant, at the long third hole tried conclusions with the rail fence, thereby missing his chances.

The sheep grazing peacefully in Judd Cullinson's vicinity, when he dubbed his hard hit drive at the eighth tee, simply could not stand the sudden change in temperature and removed themselves hurriedly!

K. Nagata, one stroke behind the winner, was heard to say: "If only I had NOT missed those little putts!"

Miss Cheryl Elverson, the youngest contestant, impressed everyone with the rhythm of her swing, giving promise of sterling golf in the near future.

Walter Greene, not so hot, is buying a new set of clubs!

The winner played steady golf throughout.

The M.O.H. for the Gulf Islands was heard to remark that golf on Mayne Island was not a game, but rather an infectious disease.

BOYS' CHOIR TO SING ON AUGUST 3RD

The camp for the boys of Christ Church Cathedral Choir will open next Saturday morning at Deep Cove. Next Sunday at 11 o'clock, under the direction of the Cathedral organist, Stanley Bulley, F.R.C.O., they will sing the service of Holy Communion in Holy Trinity Church, Patricia Bay. On Sunday, August 9th, they will render Evensong in St. Andrew's Church, Sidney.

Next Monday, by the kindness of General and Mrs. Gwynne, the choirboys will give a concert on the lawn of Ardmore commencing at 3 o'clock. Should the weather be decidedly inclement the concert will be given in Stacey's Hall, Sidney. This effort is being sponsored by the Women's Guild of Holy Trinity and St. Andrew's and the proceeds will be set aside for the repairing and painting of the rectory. Those desiring to attend the concert but who are unable to do so owing to lack of transportation are requested to phone Mr. Baker's residence, Sidney 40, on Monday morning before 1 o'clock. It is hoped that this concert will be given the wholehearted support of the congregations and general community.

Ardmore Golf Club

The par (18 holes) competition held on Monday, July 27th, was won by Mrs. G. Johnston with four up on par.

TEACHER APPRECIATED

Sir: — In your issue of July 22nd there is a report of a meeting of the new School Board, which bluntly states that: "when the subject of dispensing with the services of one of the teachers, made necessary due to consolidation, Miss Lorden was dropped from the staff."

As a parent whose children have been taught by her, I feel that it is not a courteous way of announcing to the public that she will be leaving the district, owing to the consolidated school. She has for several years done excellent work and has taken great trouble in helping children who, for one reason or another, needed extra tuition.

C.C.F. NOTES

From North Saanich District Council.

The following dispatch from Moscow, appearing in the Christian Science Monitor, may tend to explain a situation, which some of our more reactionary papers have been delighted to write of, as, Russia turning back to Competitive System:

"MOSCOW—Every few months, when Soviet rulers announce another of their frequent series of reforms, articles appear in foreign newspapers and magazines which seek to show that Russia is turning away from Socialism, is becoming less 'red.'"

"The customary theme of such articles is that Russian Bolsheviks once advocated universal equality, but that recent changes are tending away from equality to inequality, and the Bolsheviks therefore are abandoning their earlier ideals."

"The facts given in such articles usually are correct. It is true that Soviet citizens lived more nearly on a dead level a few years ago than they do now, and that almost every new reform emphasizes differences in compensation between higher and lower groups. Marx-Lenin Theories

"But anyone who has studied the writings of Karl Marx and V. I. Lenin knows that these Bolshevik prophets never advocated universal equality under the 'first phase of Communism,' or Socialism, but on the contrary stressed the need for sharp inequalities of payment and living standards between more useful and less useful members of society."

"A few months before the Bolsheviks seized power in Russia in 1917, Lenin shut himself up in a room in Helsinki, Finland, and outlined a sort of 'blue print' for the Soviet state in his book, 'State and Revolution.' This book outlines the Bolshevik attitude toward equality which Joseph Stalin and his associates have fully accepted."

Equal Right to Equal Product

"Lenin shows that Karl Marx repudiated the notions of earlier Socialist writers that every worker should have an 'equal right to an equal product of labor' after private ownership of the means of production has been abolished.

"Lenin added: 'This first phase of Communism cannot yet produce justice and equality; differences, and unjust differences, in wealth will still exist . . . Marx shows the course of development of Communist society, which is forced at first to destroy only the injustice that consists in the means of production being seized by private individuals, and which is not capable of destroying at once the further injustice consisting in the distribution of the articles of consumption "according to work performed" and not according to need.'

Still Guiding

"This very explicit explanation that inequality is necessary during the 'first phase of Communism' has guided and is still guiding Joseph Stalin and his associates, as it did Lenin before him. This 'first phase of Communism,' as Soviet philosophers recently have explained, is likely to continue until most other countries have adopted Socialist systems like that of Russia."

"Why, then, was equality much more common in Russia a few years ago than it is today? Why is inequality becoming daily more pronounced?"

"The Bolsheviks declare that they have hitherto been unable to stress inequalities because of the general goods shortage. There was barely enough for each to have a small share, sometimes not even that. But as the shortage is overcome, it becomes possible to give larger shares to the more useful workers, while less useful workers must get along with less. 'Marx and Lenin predicted that this 'first phase of Communism,' would be followed by the 'higher phase of Communism,' under which both the state and inequality would disappear."

Will It Abdicate?

"Many shrewd observers doubt that the powerful bureaucracy now being created, with personal advantages which daily increase, will voluntarily abdicate its position, as such predictions suggest. Marx himself has pointed out that there is no historical precedent for such abdication."

"But it is not fair to Bolshevik leaders to say that they are 'abandoning Socialism' simply because they are stressing unequal privileges for more useful and less useful workers, during the present period, which they call the 'first phase of Communism.' They have the explicit authority of both Marx and Lenin for their present policy."

"It is true that many Russian Communists did not understand this subtle conception, that they expected something like absolute equality to come very soon. But such Communists had not carefully studied the writings of Marx and Lenin, which repeatedly stressed the inevitability of inequality during the 'first phase of Communism,' a period which Lenin emphasized could not be accurately determined, and which in any case must cover a 'long time.'"

Noted Birth Control Advocate's Visit

Mrs. Edith How-Martyn, director of the International Birth Control Information Centre in London, England, stopped off in Victoria for a few hours last week between speaking engagements in Seattle and Vancouver on her world tour. She addressed a few interested women and promised to return and hold a public meeting when she goes back to China.

All social workers and ministers and all social workers recognize that the need for the work is great," she says, "and the establishment of clinics and centres is progressing rapidly all over the British Empire. We must establish the right of every child to be well-born and welcome, that is to have healthy parents, a mother who is not already worn out bringing up more children than the family income can support, an opportunity for suitable education and a job at the end of it. Holland has been greatly benefited by the public dissemination of contraceptive information for the last 50 years in planned families and lower infant and maternal mortality."

"Do you know," says the Parents Bureau of Kitchener, Ontario, "that more children were committed to our state institutions last year than graduated from our colleges; that there are more abortions reported in the United States and Canada than anywhere else; and a higher infant mortality rate; that in New Zealand where birth control has been practiced for years the birth rate is 21.6 per 1,000, there is an even distribution of children in all classes and their infant mortality is the lowest in the world?"

Mrs. Edith How-Martyn holds a London University Master's Degree in Public Administration and Political Science and she lectured at the university in mathematics, till feeling the call of women's suffrage, she gave herself to that movement, and ever since has worked in the interests of women and children and world peace.

"There can be no peace as long as populations multiply beyond the ability of their respective nations to maintain a high and rising level of material comfort," says Professor Fairchild of New York University.
